

Special Committee on Judicial Recruitment and Selection

Special Committee on Judicial Recruitment and Selection

The application process is now open for members of the public and of the Idaho State Bar interested in being part of this committee's work! See the application process link below on this page.**

The Idaho Supreme Court will appoint a special committee to examine ways to improve judicial recruitment in Idaho, including the processes of the Idaho Judicial Council.

This special committee is in keeping with an Idaho tradition of using thoughtful and deliberative processes to address changes to judicial recruitment and selection processes. The committee is expected to work throughout the 2022 calendar year, providing recommendations to shape later reforms.

Committee members are expected to include:

- two members each appointed by the governor, president pro tempore of the Idaho Senate, and speaker of the Idaho House.
- two Idaho attorneys.
- a district judge.
- a magistrate judge.
- two members of the public at large.

Listed below are initial documents related to the formation of the committee. Watch this page for further updates as the committee forms and begins its work.
